Arriving on site

Visitors must:

- Sign the Visit book
- Always wear their pass
- Always be escorted within the building by an UKNNL employee
- Return the pass to UKNNL Reception on departure

Your escort is responsible for ensuring your safety and security during your visit and will be able to answer any questions you may have regarding your visit.

Parking for visitors

Parking is limited on the Birchwood Park site. If you park in the long stay car park, do not take a ticket and register your car at the main reception on the ground floor of Chadwick House, UKNNL will cover the cost. If you wish to park on the short stay car park you will need to pay for your own parking. The map below shows the location of various car parks in relation to Chadwick House.

Please Park safely and courteously as there is an external company that monitors the parking on site, and they will issue parking tickets to anyone parking unsafely or illegally.

As from the 6 January a new barrier system went live at the long stay car park, this means that to gain entry a ticket needs to be taken which will then be validated at Chadwick House reception when leaving.

(Please note: After 5pm when Chadwick reception is closed, the Security Office can validate the ticket)

Once through the barrier after taking the ticket please park in the main car park area and not in the permit only area as this will result in a penalty notice.

The signing in book at Chadwick House reception will no longer need to be filled in on arrival, details will be taken from individuals when the ticket is validated.

Other useful information

Cameras and recording equipment

Cameras and recording equipment are, under certain circumstances, allowed into the UKNNL suite but appropriate authorisation and permits must be in place prior to the visit taking place. Contact UKNNL Chadwick House Reception on (01925) 933744 for further information.

Mobile Phones and Smartphones

These are allowed onto the site, but the camera function must not be used without a permit.
